Living History

The Third Annual Event explores the French & Indian War and focuses on the effect it had on the western region of Pennsylvania. A distinguished panel of speakers, including Douglas Cubbison, author of several books about the conflict, will speak on topics defining forces that shaped and impacted the French Creek Valley.

The two day event offers a brush with local history. Encampments of living history re-enactors provide both a visual and hands on experience. The free event also provides museum quality artifacts and demonstrations. This unique experience offers something for all ages and interests.
